

Long-Term Care Providers and Services Users in the United States, Adult Day Services Center Component: National Post-acute and Long-term Care Study, 2020

Weighted National Estimates and Standard Errors

The following table provides the weighted estimates and associated standard errors for selected variables from the adult day services center (ADSC) component of the 2020 National Post-acute and Long-term Care Study (NPALS). Data from the 2020 NPALS are restricted to maintain confidentiality of respondents and can only be accessed through the National Center for Health Statistics' Research Data Center. Among the many variables reported in the ADSC component of NPALS, here are a few key estimates: As of 2020, there were 5,500 adult day services centers in the United States serving 237,400 participants, with total allowable capacity of 294,000 participants. Readers are encouraged to review the ADSC tables for many other estimates from NPALS.

Weighted estimates are provided for original variables based directly on the survey response categories as well as derived or new variables that are adaptations of the survey responses. Although most estimates are at the ADSC level, to make the data more useful, ADSC-level variables have been converted to participant-level measures wherever applicable. For instance, the MEDPAIDrc variable on page 15 is used to provide the following set of measures:

1. Percentage of the adult day services centers by percentage of participants who had some or all of their long-term care services paid by Medicaid in the last 30 days. This adult day services center-level measure was obtained directly from the survey question:
"During the last 30 days, for how many of the participants enrolled at this adult day services center did Medicaid pay for some or all of their services received at this center?"
2. Total number of participants who had some or all of their long-term care services paid by Medicaid in the last 30 days. This participant-level measure was derived by summing the numbers of participants who had some or all of their long-term care services paid by Medicaid in the last 30 days.

3. Percentage of current participants across all ADSCs who had some or all of their long-term care services paid by Medicaid in the last 30 days. This participant-level measure is derived as a ratio of the total number of participants using Medicaid to pay for services to the total number of participants across all ADSCs.

All measures are coded as “-1” if they follow a skip pattern in the questionnaire and consequently are legitimately skipped. The 2020 ADSC questionnaires can be accessed at: <https://www.cdc.gov/nchs/npals/questionnaires.htm>.

For most measures, a separate category coded as “-9” indicates data not ascertained or missing data, with the only exception being ratios, where the missing cases are not included in the calculations.

Information about the design and methodology of the 2020 NPALS in general, and the ADSC component in particular, can be accessed at: <https://www.cdc.gov/nchs/data/npals/2020-NPALS-methodology-documentation-508.pdf>.
